Writing skills practice: An opinion essay about fast food – writing practice

Write an opinion essay on one of the questions below.

- In some countries an increasing number of people are suffering from health problems as a result of eating too much fast food. It is therefore necessary for governments to impose a higher tax on this kind of food. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this opinion?
- Many children consume drinks containing high levels of sugar, which can adversely affect their health. For this reason, some have recommended that sugary drinks should be banned in schools. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this opinion?
- Producing meat takes up large amounts of land, water and other resources. Some people are promoting vegetarian diets as better for people and the planet. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this opinion?

© British Council, 2017 The United Kingdom's international organisation for educational opportunities and cultural relations. We are registered in England as a charity.

© British Council, 2017 The United Kingdom's international organisation for educational opportunities and cultural relations. We are registered in England as a charity.